A MATTER OF TIME

Appreciating the dilemma, but rejecting the conclusion of Peggy Lee's cynic-lyric, "Is That All There Is?", I looked at the average age in the current obituary column of Texas Press Messenger.

It roughed out at 52. And whether you are 25 years either side of 50, that is young by every modern standard.

What are we doing to ourselves, we journalists, newsmen, admen, publishers, communicators male and distaff?

We are drowning in swimming pools, suffering brain hemorrhages, going down to disease and heart attacks.

Only it seems we are going younger than most.

The last thing I dwell upon is "that final disappointment." That dwelling is a waste of time.

And perhaps that is the key. Perhaps we communicators ought to waste a little time, miss a deadline, play a little more golf or tennis, drive a little slower, rest a little faster.

There is enough philosopher in most of us to head off a heart attack or vascular problem with diet and exercise. And it's pointless to anticipate a fatal turn, the unseen truck, that moment of departure.

Funny-looking philosopher! I would never go without fair warning, time for a trim at the barber's. Never! What does "everybody's mother" tell "everybody" before a trip: "Be sure to wear clean underwear in case of an accident?"

Do journalists listen? Apparently not. The liberated ones sometimes are faddishly without.

"Oh, no, not me!" sings Lee in her modish dejavu. "I'm not ready for that final disappointment."

Neither am I!

Neither were they.

We of the media won't leave you on that precipice with Peggy Lee. It's not big enough, and besides, we haven't the time.

117-117-117

What counts is what happens between an unrequested start and an unexpected stop.

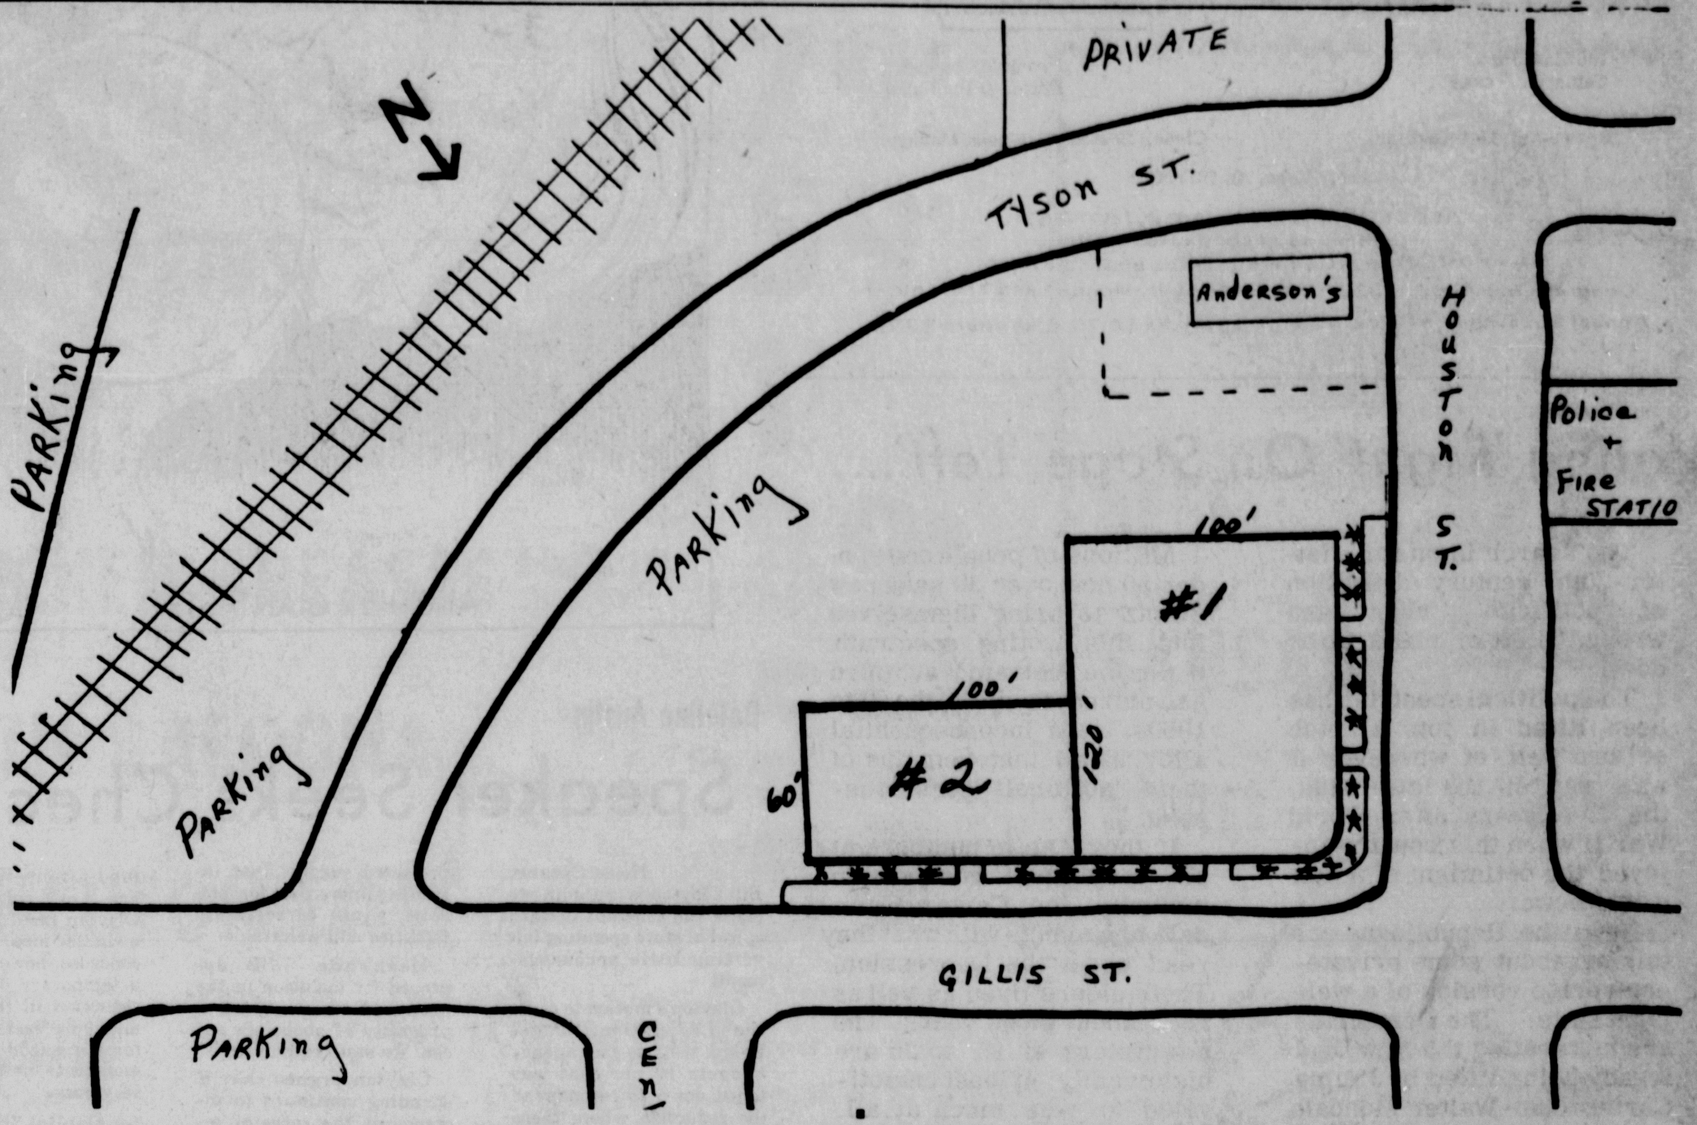
It's not the age, it's the mileage.

Stopping at 50, of course, is ridiculous. I used to joke about being born 50 years old. So the obit people won't get me until I'm at least 100. Then it's a debate on the premise of which calendar I'm toted by: Roman, Greek, Babylonian, Arabic, Aztec?

Paul Crume, the Dallas News columnist, laughed at his approaching death in a column posthumously published.

He said life was unconstitutional.

I rather think life, fully lived, is timeless.



PROPOSED BUILDINGS for youth expositions and other uses are shown in the map above. Building No. 1 will have a concrete floor and can be used for a number of activities. Building No. 2 will have a sand floor for use in livestock and other county shows. A fund drive for construction will start in September, conducted by the Milam County Youth Exposition Association.

County Votes Pay Raises

County commissioners voted to give all salaried county employees an 8 percent salary increase and approved increases in salaries for elected officials at a budget hearing Monday morning.

The public hearing drew two visitors who asked questions about the proposals, one man an Alcoa employee and the other a county employee.

C. S. Mowdy asked how much commissioners will be making and was told it would be about $800 a month with the increase. Their present salary is about $800.

The other visitor, J. C. Komar who is a sheriff's office radio dispatcher, asked how they were expected to get by on $400 a month if the commissioners can't get by on $800. Dispatchers are now paid $2.30 an hour.

County Judge O. B. Harden said the county couldn't pay everybody the same salary and said upon checking with other counties, found they pay the same thing except for Falls, which pays $325.

Komar said he felt dispatchers should make as much as the lowest-paid clerk in the courthouse, which is about $438.

Harden called Sheriff Carl Black over to the meeting and asked if he had any recommendations on Komar's problem. Sheriff Black said he didn't have anything to do with setting salaries and that was commissioners work. He said the dispatchers didn't have the responsibility that he has.

In answer to another question, Black said three dispatchers are needed as calls for his department come in on the radio at all hours.

Sheriff Black said when he lived in the old jail he served as jailer, but now spends much of his time at the new jail, as he gets called out night and day. He added that all law enforcement is getting more expensive all the time.

Increases for county officials include county judge $800; county clerk $800; tax assessor-collector $800; county commissioners $1,400; county attorney $5,000; sheriff $855.98; county treasurer $560; and district clerk $704.

Increases for constables includes, with the exception of Pct. 4, $114.24; constable Pct. 4 $276.23; justice of the peace Pct. 1 $807.92; justice of the peace Pct. 2 $28.56; justice of the peace Pct. 3 $57.12; justice of the peace Pct. 4, $1,716; justice of the peace Pct. 5 $24; and justice of the peace Pct. 8 $57.12.

ASCS Outlines Rules For Claim On Disasters

Farmers who want to apply for 1976 disaster provisions on crops that fail or produce low yields due to disaster conditions, should file within 15 days after the crop is abandoned or harvested, according to advice by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The program applies to corn, grain sorghum or cotton.

The claim must be filed while evidence of the crop and disaster is still apparent.

To be eligible for disaster consideration, each crop that will not be harvested must be checked and appraised before the farmer makes other use of the acreage such as grazing, baling or plowing. Any time the farmer decides to destroy a crop, the county ASCS office should be contacted.

If a crop is to be carried to harvest, but the yield is low, farmers should file an application for low yield within 15 days after the date he finishes harvest on the farm.

Meals Due For Senior Citizens

A program of hot meals for senior citizens will start in Cameron on Sept. 20 and will be sponsored by the Hill Country Community Action Association.

The meals will be served in the Community Action Center across the street from the O. J. Thomas school in the new OJT Park site. Plans are underway to enlarge the center but at the present time facilities will allow for serving only 40 meals each day at noon, Monday through Friday.

Those eligible are asked to call the Center at 697-6689 to make reservations for a meal at least two days in advance. If the person wishes to eat all meals served, they may make reservations for all days for which menus are published in The Herald. If the quota is filled, applicants must wait until there is an opening.

The persons wishing to take part in the program must be 60 years of age or older. This is not a welfare program, according to Mrs. Vivian McIntyre, director of the Center. Contributions for the value of the meals are encouraged. In fact, Mrs. McIntyre said, each one is encouraged to contribute for each meal so that matching funds can be obtained to pay the cook and other workers.

Anyone desiring to contribute seed money for starting the program should make out their check to Hill Country Community Action Program or HCCA Program.

Since funds are scarce for getting equipment set up and obtaining all the equipment, the Hill Country Community Action board has scheduled an equipment shower for the Center on Saturday, Sept. 11 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Items needed for the Center include cooking range, gas or electric; refrigerator, deep freeze, pots and pans, mixing bowls, plates, cups, cutlery and kitchen knives. Contact Mrs. McIntyre if you have something but can't deliver it and it will be picked up.

The menu for Sept. 20 through 30 will be published in The Herald on the woman's page this week.

Senate Committee OKs Revenue Sharing Bill

A bill to extend the revenue sharing program for states, counties and municipalities through October, 1982, has gone from the Senate Finance Committee to the Senate floor for debate. Vote by the committee to approve the measure was 14-0.

The bill differs sharply from House-passed legislation not only by allocating more money over a longer period of time but also by lessening many of the reporting and auditing restrictions that have been imposed on fund recipients in the past.

Working late, the committee rejected a House attempt to add three new areas -- age, religion and being handicapped -- to the list of discriminatory activities that are barred in projects funded wholly or partially by federal revenue sharing monies.

Critics of the House language said they feared Congress was trying to use the revenue sharing monies as a club to enforce a variety of anti-discrimination laws that are adequately dealt with under current statutes.

Instead, the committee added a new section relating to the filing and hearing of discrimination complaints filed against state and local governments.

The new section will not allow a cut off of funds until a full hearing and finding of discrimination by a court or federal administrative law judge.

The committee eased the reporting requirement for revenue sharing procedures, requiring only that budgets be developed and published locally, with opportunity for local public hearing.

The program will cost nearly $42 billion.

Administrator, Director New At St. Edward

St. Edward Hospital in Cameron announces the arrival of a new administrator and a new director of nursing service. They are Sister Mary Pauline Gregorio and Sister Mary Ita Hartnett.

Sister Pauline took over the post vacated by Sister Jeanette, former St. Edward administrator, who is now at St. Patrick Hospital in Lake Charles, La. She served about three years as the local administrator.

Sister Pauline graduated from Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1973 and did her residency in hospital administration at Sinai Hospital of Detroit. She was assigned as assistant administrator of St. Mary Medical Center in Long Beach, Calif. and later transferred as assistant administrator of St. Patrick Hospital in Lake Charles.

She is a native of north Louisiana.

Sister Ita is a native of Ireland and graduated in 1973 from St. Joseph School of Nursing in Houston. She did her nursing internship at St. Elizabeth Hospital in Beaumont where she spent two years on the orthopedic service.

She will officially assume her duties on Monday, Sept. 6. She is replacing Sister Benedicta, cardiac specialist, who is transferring to St. Patrick Hospital in Lake Charles. Sister Ita is familiar with coronary care, having taken a special cardiac course.

NEW FACES at St. Edward Hospital in Cameron include Sister Ita, left, director of nursing service, and Sister Pauline, new administrator for the hospital.

Mishap Damages Two Vehicles

A rear-end collision at 9 a.m. Saturday resulted in heavy damage to vehicles but no injuries, according to Cameron police officer Bill Sparks, who investigated.

The collision occurred within the city limits near Cameron Equipment Co. when a cattle truck struck the rear end of a trailer being pulled by a pickup truck. Driver of the truck was identified as Joseph Balusek of Buckholts. The pickup was driven by Bobby Gene Edwards of Troy.

Firemen Answer Calls

Volunteer firemen answered two calls Tuesday, one at 1:45 p.m. at the Dan McDaniel place where a grass fire consumed 34 round hay bales. It was thought the fire originated at an electric fence. The other call was at 5:45 p.m. in the 1500 block of North Travis where two utility poles caught fire.

Holiday For Students

Cameron school students will observe the Labor Day holiday Monday, according to Supt. Buddy Dulin. Classes will resume Tuesday.

Trustees Amend Budget

Cameron school trustees met in called session Tuesday night to amend the 1975-76 budget.

Supt. Buddy Dulin explained that increased expenses in transportation, plant maintenance and operation, and the cost of paying for four new buses had run the budget over some $48,043.

He said the buses are paid for, even though the school received two buses that were not expected to arrive until next year. He said a short-term loan would cover expenses to begin the 1976-77 year and state funds are expected in late September with tax revenue to start in October.

On transportation, cost of repairs and supplies ran that budget over with $1,214 on repairs and $5,723 in gas and supplies. Plant maintenance and operation ran $8,000 over for utilities and repairs and maintenance.

He said some items in the budget cost less than was planned with a total of $1,515,829 budgeted and revenues totaling $1,524,000. The general operating fund totaled $86,000 at the start of the year.

The search is on for a latter-20th century definition of political "right and wrong." Left or right. Up or down.

The political spectrum has been lifted in toto a notch or two left of wherever it was, say, in the late 1940s, the five years after World War II when this country enjoyed the optimism of a new world power.

Now, the Republicans are talking about some private-enterprise version of a welfare state. The Democrats are reiterating the New Deal legacy being lifted by Jimmy Carter-cum-Walter Mondale to campaign rhetoric 1976.

Voters were never less sure of the traditional parties or of themselves: the George Gallup pollsters say about 33 percent are independents, about 22 percent are Republicans and about 46 percent Democrats.

Unless a generation of higher education has been lost on tens of millions since those pleasant years of 1945-50, it is a political standoff by late October for the candidates of the major parties.

Immediately following the Kansas City nomination of President Ford and Senator Dole, the polls shifted to a 49-39 division, Carter leading. Following the New York Democratic convention, polls showed Carter leading about 60-30.

The polls are soft because people, those persons who precede political identity, social identity, economic identity, are hard to read. Pollsters even talk about a resistance to answering questions, perhaps as high as one-third approached for interviews.

Most interesting in all this is the fact that political independents are the only line steadily climbing since the end of the Korean War. Democrats peaked at 53 percent in 1964 and fell to 42 percent by the close of the Vietnam War. The Republican decline since 1953 continues steadily from a high of 37 percent to the current low.

Millions of people once under 30 now over 30 seek new events to bring themselves into this voting spectrum. It was the Vietnam War which galvanized them in the late 1960s. An inconsequential alloy is all that remains of their "political" consciousness.

If they vote in numbers at all, they must compare in maturity the Carter-Mondale arguments with what they read about the Depression. Their elders lived as well as read about those years. The new voters of 18 to 25 are historically, at least unmotivated to vote much at all.

If these tens of millions identify the Democrats with the old, but not the "old enough" traditions of Depression solutions, they might well skip back into the comfort and the relative innocence of the 20s and find Ford - Dole conservatism more acceptable.

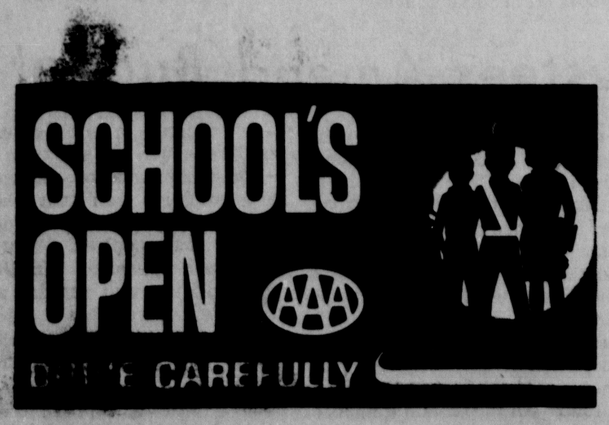
More people are working. Still, more people are unemployed. Each election finds more Americans, a larger electorate by percentage. But the way it looks, more Americans are voting less.

The percentage gain of political independents since 1953 is more than 60 percent. The percentage of increase for Democrats, the plurality party, is perhaps nil since 1953. Most of this is at the net expense of Republicans.

Political and economic calamity has enormous influence on watershed elections. The Carter-Ford year is a watershed. And it may be a rerun of a latter-day Hoover-Roosevelt contest, different in that drastic solutions are less acceptable after a war and after a deep recession, the most recent models of which have been ended by Republicans. The emphasis is on "after." But then, there is Watergate.

Socialism may continue to creep. But if the promises are too familiar, the country will vote center right on stage left.

FML. . .



OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Right off the bat, I've noticed that both candidates, Ford and Carter, have made the same mistake. They've each hired economists to help them with their speeches.

As best I can tell, economists seem to be several notches below weathermen in accuracy. A weatherman, while not very dependable on what's going to happen tomorrow, is almost always right on what happened yesterday. An economist is vague in both directions.

What got me started on this was an article I read in a national magazine, written by one of the foremost economists in the country. He has figured out how inflation is a good thing for the homeowner.

According to him, "almost every homeowner has seen the market value of his house go up, and his mortgage--even neglecting payments on the pricipal--decline as a fraction of the value of the house. Inflation has been paying off his debt and increasing his eqity."

I have a notion that everybody who owes on his home would like to do business with this economist, if he has money to lend. Letting inflation pay off your mortgage is the best idea since a colony of dro-outs tried to make a living by taking in each other's laundry.

You have to take this idea and turn it around in your hands and hold it up to the light to see why Ford and Carter ought to check up on their economists. Sure, if your house cost say $30,000 and inflation has pushed the price to $40,000, you're $10,000 ahead, only you still owe most of the $30,000 mortgage and your loan company officer will look at you over the top of his glasses if you tell him you've decided to let inflation pay off the balance.

The only way you can profit by inflation is to sell your $30,000 home for $40-000, hold the money a few days while you stay in a motel, then by another $30,000 home which will now cost you $45,000.

Inflation is wonderful, and all you have to do to make it work is to get everybody to sell his home every six months. The last one to sell is a rotten egg.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Speaker Seeks Check In State Spending

House Speaker Bill Clayton is crusading to check the constant upward spiral of state spending but getting little encouragement.

Clayton's motion to order the Legislative Budget Board staff to cut agency budgets 10 per cent was toned down to recommend the reduction where there would be "no significant loss of services."

Few agencies so far have indicated they could operate without "significant loss of services" with a reduced budget.

LBB Assistant Director Jim Oliver said selected agency requests would boost spending above the projected surplus (not including increases for prisons, youth correctional facilities and welfare).

Meanwhile, LBB approved for inclusion in the proposed budget draft a pay raise of about six per cent for state employees.

Clayton argues that if spending continues to increase at the rates of recent years, the state will be bankrupted or major new taxes must be enacted.

The speaker is aiming at House reorganization to save a quarter of a million dollars. Some jobs will be eliminated.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has recommended creation of a $1 billion capital reserve fund for investment in the era of surplus and Clayton has come up with a similar idea. The speaker concedes, however, passing a temporary one per cent reduction in the sales tax might be easier. Demands for increased budget demonstrate neither will be very easy.

Capitol "Historic"

Texas State Capitol at last is "historic".

A marker proclaiming it as such was dedicated in the rotunda last week.

Only one former governor, Preston Smith, was on hand for the ceremony. There were conflicting reports as to whether or not Gov. Briscoe was invited.

The Constitutional Convention of 1876 set aside three million acres of public land to help finance the now-historic building, which was completed in 1888.

Aid Plan Developing

Public meetings by the State Bar this fall will attempt to determine needs and develop a plan to meet needs of the developmentally disabled.

Plans will attempt to aid those suffering from autism, cerebral palsy, epilepsy and mental retardation. Hearings will be held September 13 in El Paso, September 14 in Midland and September 16 in Amarillo.

Loan Hearing Held

A key state loan program for Texas college and university students may be in danger of a $6 million a year cutback.

A Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System committee held a hearing this week to discuss a proposed U. S. Office of Education restriction on the Hinson-Hazlewood program.

The program could face a substantial cutback in its line of credit for federal insurance in 1976-77 unless the Board and USOE can agree on a plan to reduce the overall default rate of 15.56 per cent.

USOE wants the Hinson-Hazlewood loans limited to students at Texas institutions where default rates are confined to 10 per cent. Unless the agreement is reached with federal authorities, the program's lending capacity may be cut back from $21.1 million last year to $15 million. Many institutions have raised strong objections. Some default rates run as high as 41.8 per cent.

AG Opinions

State law prohibits public disclosure of city inspection reports on nursing homes, but federal law allows access to the information, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The Animal Health Commission has authority to require inspection for ticks on herds located on premises in a free area suspected of infestation and to require stock yards to construct scratching chute facilities at private expense for tick inspection.

Austin State School may not use appropriated funds to lease or otherwise acquire facilities in San Antonio for residential services programs for mentally retarded persons in Bexar County.

Facade easements to a building's exterior (without disturbing private control of the interior) are valid in Texas and may be granted to Texas Historical Commission.

Unemployment Down

State unemployment rates dropped to 5.7 per cent in July — four-tenths of one per cent below the June figure.

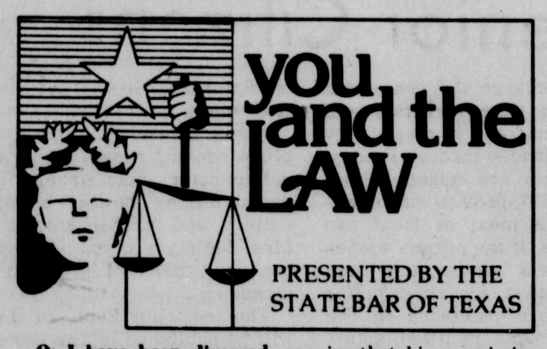
Texas Employment Commission Chairman Harold K. Dudley said the decline follows a seasonal pattern, since many remove themselves from the labor force if unable to find employment by midsummer.

Last year's July rate of joblessness was six per cent.

The July work force was 5,469,500, with 5,156,500 employed. Total employment for June was 5,149,000.

National unadjusted jobless rate for July was 7.8 per cent.

Texas rates vary regionally from a low of 3.5 per cent in the Amarillo area to 12.1 per cent in the Laredo area. The Dallas-Fort Worth rate was 5.1 per cent and the Houston rate 5.9 per cent.



Q: I have been divorced for three years and have custody of our three - year-old daughter. What can I do to see that she is not given to my ex-husband in case of my death? Also, how hard would it be to have my new husband adopt my daughter?

A: At the death of a parent who has custody of a child from a divorced marriage, the other parent has a paramount right to the possession of the child. This right can be denied only by presentation of evidence showing it is not in the best interest of the child to be placed in the custody of the surviving parent. This right of the surviving parent cannot be taken away by a provision in a will. If your second husband wishes to adopt your daughter, a court must first terminate the parental rights of the child's father.

Q: My neighbor's yard has a huge oak tree which hangs several feet onto my property. The neighbors allowed me to cut off a branch resting on my roof. But, they do not want any more branches removed from their tree, which drops leaves directly into my swimming pool. What is my recourse?

A: Common law property rights give the owner of land the ownership of the land beneath the property and the space above. A neighbor's tree limbs extending onto your property may be cut at the point where the limb crosses the property line. However, your neighbor has a legal right to require that his permission be given before you can trespass on his property in removing tree limbs.

Q: My landlord is trying to sell the duplex I'm renting. He has been bringing potential buyers through my side of the duplex when I'm not home and without asking my permission. Do I have any legal right to prevent this?

A: A landlord has no right to enter the premises without the tenant's permission unless he is granted that right by a lease or other contract, or unless it is necessary to protect his property in an emergency. Many apartment leases include provisions allowing landlords to enter a rented apartment without the tenant's permission for such specific purposes as repairs; in each instance, the landlord must leave the tenant written notice of the entry and an explanation of the purpose of the entry.

Q: May I be denied credit because my husband has a bad credit rating?

A: No. Unless you are liable for your husband's debts through a contract setting out this fact, your husband's debts can't be considered by a merchant or lending institution in determining whether to extend credit to you. If you believe you have been discriminated against on this basis, federal law provides that you may bring suit against the merchant or lending institution.

Agent Seeks Support For Expo Building

By Bill McCutchen

For years and years the Milam County Fair Association and other youth leaders have been searching for a way to get facilities for live stock shows, broiler shows, project fairs and a place that the youth of the county could use for other activities. This facility is near reality now and should be taking shape next month.

The proposed 18,000 sq. foot metal building to be built on the vacant area across from the City Hall in Cameron has already received substantial support monitarily from the Community Development Agency, the Livestock Association, the Commissioners Court, Folk Fete, United Fund, several banks, the City in terms of land, and the contractor has also donated substantially to the project. The Milam County Farm Bureau and other orgations are planning on contributions to the facility.

These donations amount to about half of the funds needed to construct the $65,000 facility.

A fund drive for the remainder of the funds needed will be initiated in September. Carl Grothe and Monroe Fuchs will head the drive in which they plan to give both city folks and all of the rural areas a chance to assist with this facility for the youth of Milam County.

Everyone will have the chance to help, and help must come from the majority of the citizens in the county if this goal is to be realized. Many will be asked to make contacts in their community and all will be asked to assist financially.

Many people have put in a lot of time and work to make this happen for the youth of the county. Please do your part in helping make this project a reality for your youngsters, your grandchildren, and the other youths in Milam County.

Weevil Control

Williamson County is in the process of organizing a 'all boll weevil diapause control program. The program will require about two applications. One at defoliation and the other about 10 days thereafter. These applications when conducted in an area or countywide, significantly reduce diapausing weevil numbers. Such a program over a three year period or longer has proven in conjunction with early season control to reduce weevil populations to levels that were economically unimportant.

I have contacted quite a few farmers in Milam County about such a program and have not seen much interest. This is understandable as the cotton crop is short. The irony here, however, is that much of the reason that the crop is short is because of the boll weevil. We could have taken boll worm damage and made a crop in many instances had it not been for weevil populations.

At this time I hoping that Williamson County can get organized countywide on the diapause control program. There is no question that the program will work. If Williamson County can organize and make it work, I won't have to sell the idea to Milam County.

I contend that year after year cotton would be one of the easiest and more profitable crops we could have if boll weevil numbers were suppressed.

FB Head Warns Of Low Prices

"This country's food factory is in serious trouble," the president of the Texas Farm Bureau says.

Carrol Chaloupka, Dalhart grain and cattle producer, said farmers and ranchers have responded to the call for more production, but have been penalized by lower prices.

"We have produced in such abundance that we have a big surplus, and this year's grain crops may set another record," he said. "Our production costs are rising with inflation just like everybody else's, but prices paid to grain producers and cattlemen have dropped."

The Farm Bureau leader said that at the end of the third week in August wheat prices were down 27 percent from a year ago, sorghum was 18 percent lower, corn down 10 percent, and that cattle prices had dropped 25 percent below last August--"which has a bad time for cattlemen."

Chaloupka said farmers are going to demand that no restrictions be placed on their markets, especially export markets. "Another embargo would be disastrous," he said.

Screwworm Case Found

MISSION

Lab identification of the year's first screwworm case from Milam County helped bring the Texas count to 12,133 says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This information comes from Dr. James E. Novy. He is veterinarian in charge of Field Operations for the Screwworm Eradication Program.

Novy says 155 Texas counties are now known to be infested with this parasite of warm blooded animals. The program is operated by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, APHIS.

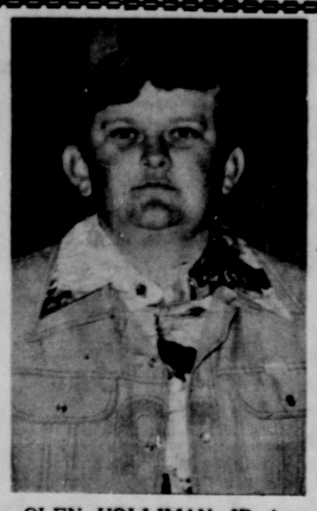
B. A. Cunningham of Gause collected the Milam County sample from a wound in the back of one of his calves six miles south of town.

Screwworms are larvae of the screwworm fly. Adult females of this species deposit eggs on wounds in warm blooded animals.

As eggs hatch the tiny worms enter the wound to feed on live flesh, growing to about half an inch long within a week. They then drop to the ground where they pupate for another week before emerging as adults.

The APHIS program uses sterile males in fighting this pest. Female screwworm flies mate only once i their lifetimes.

MILTON LIGHTSEY has been named executive vice-president of the Bryan Production Credit Association. He will be in charge of credit for the entire Association.



OLEN HOLLIMAN JR. has been named new manager for Bryan Production Credit Assocation field office.

There are almost one million species of insects.

Yoemen Open At Home Against 3A Taylor Ducks

Cameron and Taylor will open the season at Yoe Field Friday night. The two teams will tangle before a loaded house, according to school officials.

The Taylor Ducks return a fast footed offense and are surefooted on talent. Returning from a 7-2-1 season last year the Ducks will be ready for the team that issued them their only loss--the Cameron Yoemen.

Halfback Marion Morgan will add speed to the Ducks offense with 4.8 speed and will depend on Lester Zachary for experience and size.

The Taylor offense will be designed to run up the power alleys and test the inner strength of the Yoe defense.

Yoe secondary will also be tested by the throwing arm of Taylor quarterback Gary Lankford. Lankford likes to throw to Doug Alexander, a senior split end.

Across the front line the Taylor offense averages 160 pounds and the offensive backfield weighs an average of 168 pounds per player.

The Duck defensive line is an average of 170 per man and the defensive secondary will weight in at 147.

The weights are compared to the Yoe's offensive line 184 and backfield 147. On defense the Yoe line weighs an average of 176 and secondar y 148 pounds per player.

Kickoff time for the game has been scheduled for 8 p.m. and the ticket gates will open at 6:30 for general admission and reserved seat tickets (if available).

31 Yoemen Fill Positions For '76

Thirty-one players will begin the 1976 schoolboy football for the Cameron Yoemen. Coach Ed Cauley and staff will be trying to repair and replenish the squad after graduation wiped away almost everything, leaving 2 offensive starters and 3 defensive regulars from the quarter-finalist team.

In the '75 football season the Yoemen depended on size, speed, and a well full of talent and experience. Last year's size has deplenished and that makes way for a new coaching strategy.

The coaching technique called passing. In years past the Yoemen depended on the power runnng game that in last season alone rolled up 320 points in the regular season.

While the offense is going through adjustments for this season the Yoe defense that prided itself to only giving up 28 points last season will also feel the loss of talent.

In the secondary the Yoemen will play both the zone and man-to-man. For the linemen a continued containing defense will be on tap for the '76 season.

Despite the loss of a ton of experience the '76 Yoemen will be strong on the quickness front. Also, according to Cauley, the Yoemen will be prepared.

Weighing the short comings against the good the Yoemen still come up on top.

After being rated 'number one' last season, fans feel the slightest misaligment seems hard to give up. Being in the same district as Rockdale adds another problem to the Yoe season.

You will not hear sounds of misery coming from the coaching staff. According to Cauley the Yoemen will be competitive and in contention.

They should. Looking over the written copy and looking at the individuals the Yoemen retain that all important 'sense of winning' and how to win.

4A Austin Crockett Escapes Cameron, 2-1

In the final controlled scrimmage of the year the Cameron Yoemen picked on 4A Austin Crockett. Crockett stood as tall as the state capitol and escaped from the 2A Yoe with a slim 2-1 advantage.

A scrimmage is designed to test strength and a fine way to test your strength is to pick on the big ones. A delight that Cauley and his staff has been noted to do.

In the final results the Yoemen fared better than most had anticipated after giving up a ton of talent to graduation.

Crockett had a definite size advantage over the Yoemen and used the advantage to squeeze the one TD advantage.

In a controlled scrimmage the offense is given 20 plays to score. The offense has three plays to make the first down and if they fail they return to their 35.

Crockett had the first 20 offensive plays and accumulated 5 first downs. They ran up 76 rushing yards in their offensive efforts and 15 from their passing game. On the 20th play they scored from one yard out on a plunge up the middle.

In the first 20 plays for the Yoe offense, Donald Komar guided the Yoemen to 4 first downs. Yoe gained 60 yards rushing and 16 from their aerial game. In the first series the maroon and gray was able to march to the 12 yard line.

Crockett's second offensive team tried their luck against the Yoe second team defense and in the second series tallied three first downs and gained 49 yards rushing and 37 passing.

Yoe's John McIntyre picked off an interception and James Thompson recovered the loose pigskin for the second team.

Yoe's second offense was unable to break into pay dirt but gained 3 first downs and rolled up 67 yards rushing and 18 yards passing.

Returning to the first team offense Crockett, in the third series was able to gain 4 first downs and a TD on a 3 yard plunge. They scampered for 62 yards rushing and 37 yards from the air.

In Yoe's final series they were able to close the gap with a second effort surge by David Rosemond from 8 yards out. In the final 20 plays the Yoe offense gained 76 yards on the turf.

FORREST GUESS

IT'S HERE...

Excitment is in the air. Footballs are aloft and sounds of the '76 Yoe band can be heard late Monday nights as the football team and band prepare for the opening night against Taylor.

Coach Ed Cauley and crew were on hand Monday night at the Yoemen Booster Club meeting and issued statements to the club on the upcoming game.

While the Booster Club was seeing the film of the Austin Crockett scrimmage, Jerry Bartley was giving instructions to his 130 member band.

Nothing gets you more excited and ready for football season than thos e famous cowbells and drummers of the Yoe High band.

While the football boys were in two-a-days the Yoe band was going through preschool workouts as well.

Jerry Bartley said that his Yoemen would be bringing some new attractions to pre-game and half time.

Yoe High must have band fever--130 members strong is somewhat impressive!

NUMBER ONE...

According to most football experts (if there are any) Rockdale is 'Number One'; a position that the Yoemen found to be deadly in post-season play.

It's of little surprise that Rockdale be named to defend that elusive number one position since their new arrival in 2A ball. The Tigers return size, talent, and experience.

Along with the publicity and prestige with the number one selection there is a great deal of pressure.

As stated last year year when the Yoemen held that "1", everyone likes to beat 'ole number one.'

It looks like in the district opener down the line will be more than a battle for the Bell, maybe the district title.

CAULEY SAID...

"At first I wasn't at all impressed with our performance. I thought we could have done a lot more than we did and I felt we were still weak in too many places.

"I viewed the film on Saturday and that helped. I looked at it again on Sunday and it got better. Then when we got together and looked at it on Monday, I felt even better.

"I was pleased with the quickness of the offensive linemen and thought our defense has improved over the week before.

"On offense we have to get our receiver and throwers together. They need to get their timing down. Several times I felt that if we could have gotten the play there we could have scored.

"Taylor has good size but aren't as quick as they have been in the past. They will play their same defensive game but on offense we are looking for them to run right at us.

"I think that Taylor will test us right up the middle. They will also try their passing game against us.

"They will be running seven players both ways and that could help us out in the long run.

"The Yoemen have been looking forward to this game and I know they will not let you down. They want to be remembered as winners."

FOUR...

It's been four in a row for the Yoemen over the Taylor Ducks. Coach Shirl Frazier has never won a Taylor-Yoe game since he has been in Taylor.

Although Taylor has been able to wrap up two zone championships and one co-champ since Frazier has been there.

A lot is on the line for both teams.

Bobby Burton

Alan Richardson

Bobby Ray Burton will be barking the plays for the Cameron Yoemen this season. Burton is a 16-year-old junior and will be alternating quarterback for the Maroon and Gray.

Burton has participated in basketball and track last season and lettered in both.

During the past summer he worked at Gibson's. Burton has worked hard during the summer getting in shape for this season and will play a vital role in the defense for the Yoemen.

Burton lists the University of California at Los Angeles as his favorite college team. He also selected the Pittsburg Steelers as his favorite pro team.

Making this the best football season ever for the Yoemen is one of Burton's goals this season, and he well could be a strong arm in the Yoe success.

Alan Richardson will be the starting offensive tackle for the 1976 Fighting Yoemen Richardson is a 5'8", 180 pound junior at Yoe High.

On defense Richardson will be alternating in as defensive tackle. Richardson will be wearing jersey #75.

Alan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson of Rt 1, Cameron.

Alan has played football for three years and begins his fourth on the varsity this season.

Off the football field Alan has been selected as class favorite and was elected Flame King for his sophomore class. He is an active member of the CYO.

During the past year Richardson has worked at the Western Auto store in Cameron.

Richardson sites the Texas Aggies as his favorite college football team. He also said that he is a Washington Redskins fan.

Coming up from the junior varsity last year Richardson has proved his football playing ability as one of the finest JV tackles last season.

GIFT TO MHB College was made last week when C. R. Law of Cameron, right, presented deeds to kaolin silicate deposits on his Freestone County acreage to Dr.Bobby E. Parker, president of the college.

Law Deeds Deposits To MHB College

Kaolin silicate deposits located on acreage in Freestone County have been deeded to Mary Hardin-Baylor College by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Law of Cameron. Law presented the deeds this week to Dr. Bobby E. Parker, president of Mary Hardin-Baylor.

The present market value of the gift is now $25,000 but the abundant supply of the kaolin silicate in the soil substantially increases its worth, Law said.

The major use of this substance is in paper, to give it opacity. There are 55 million tons of paper produced annually in the United States. Other uses include paints, cosmetics, ceramics, and many others.

Law was a trustee of Mary Hardin-Baylor for many years, and has long been a benefactor of the college. He now serves on the Board of Advancement.

Can't tell yet whether my son will follow in his Dad's footsteps. Toys don't make an engineer.

But he's learning some of the basic principles of physics with which many professions deal.

On the way home from Church, when he talks about his lesson, I recognize familiar signs . . . character is still in the mold. Deep conviction, bold dedication come later. But he's grasping those basic truths on which great living rises.

For a busy engineer who used to be hit-or-miss in his church attendance, fostering the growth of a soul is a fascinating experience . . . especially as I find my own faith deepening with every reverent day!

Can't tell about his following my footsteps. But I've discovered new dimensions in life following his.

Leather Popular This Fall

By Chris Holcombe

Real leather, suede, and their fabulous fakes are continuing as one of the most popular outerwear categories for everyone this fall.

Current styles feature more detailing and fashionable design variation. Popular colors include buttery tans and earth tones of rust, mocha, and brown shades.

Real leathers and suedes are more expensive than a year ago. Cost for cowhides have risen almost 50 percent while sheep, lamp, and pig skin costs have remained stable. Sharply soaring costs of real fur--five to 100 percent higher--and lamb shearlings trims will limit their availability except in the more expensive price ranges.

Realistic looking and more affordable, fake fur trims will be seen in the popular price ranges. Real and fake fur trimmed styles will be more popular than a year ago.

Create Special Atmosphere With Dimmer Switches

COLLEGE STATION

With entertaining in mind, create a special atmosphere in your home with dinner switches. Effects can be particularly welcome in the dining room to remove glaring lights or in the den to soften the lights for a party.

The switches come in many different types, from wall-mounted types for controlling permanently installed fixtures to portable varieties for several uses.

There's no special trick for installing a dimmer switch in the wall to replace a regular switch.

You can easily do it yourself, says Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Buy a switch with a watt capacity that exceeds the total wattage of the light bulb or bulbs to be used with it. Wattage will probably be written on the package of the dimmer switch when you buy it.

Make sure that the switch you are replacing does not control an appliance outlet as well as the light.

Begin installation by turning off the electricity to the switch on which you are working. Make sure you flip the correct circuit breaker switch or remove the proper fuse for that switch.

Remove the cover plate to the switch by unfastening the screws holding it to the wall. The switch is usually held in place by two mounting screws. Undo these and pull the switch out from the box in the wall. (see figure 1)

There should be two wires connected to the switch if it is a single-pole switch. Otherwise, you need a different kind of dimmer switch and different instructions than these.

To remove the old switch, simply loosen the two screws on the switch body (the terminal screws). After you pull out the old switch, the new dimmer switch can be hooked onto those same wires by fastening the wires clockwise around the screws on the dimmer switch and tightening the screws.

If the dinner switch doesn't have two terminal screws, it may have wires of its own coming out of the wall using splicers (thimble - looking objects) that came with the new switch. Screw the splicer over the two ends of the wires. The bottom edge of the splicer should cover the exposed ends of the two wires.

With both connections completed, push the dimmer switch back into the wall box and secure it with screws. Return the cover plate, restore electricity and enjoy the romantic, dim lights.

4-H NOTES

By Kenneth Waites

The Milam County 4-H Clubs are looking forward to the construction of the County Youth Exposition Building which will be built in Cameron and hopefully completed by the end of the year

The building will be for the purpose of holding various youth and other activities and will be available for county-wide use. The county has been in a great need for facilities to hold many of the activities through the year and the 4-H Council. Debbie Malone of Minerva as chairman, believes this will solve many of the problems they have in searching for a dry, warm place during the cold, rainy season.

The county 4-H Council is willing to give their full support in any way they can to help get this facility built and to maintain it. The building will certainly be worth every effort it takes to get it up and the Milam County 4-H is ready to do their part.
